

SunPower T5 high-output fluorescent lighting fixtures are a favorite among hobbyists who want top-of-the-line performance at an affordable price. With superior design and high-end components, SunPower produces up to 50% more light than other equally-sized T5 fixtures, without using more energy. The active cooling system allows bulbs to run at a more optimal temperature, which improves both bulb output and bulb life.

Unbeatable Performance: Superior design and high-end components produce 50% more light than most other equally sized T5 fixtures. Active cooling system allows bulbs to run at a more optimal temperature improving both bulb output and bulb life.

Energy Efficient: Produces up to 50% more light than most other equally sized T5 fixtures without using more energy.

Contemporary Design: Slim, silver colored body is lightweight, durable, rust-proof and just 2.1" high. All components including the T5 ballasts are enclosed inside the fixture housing. The only items external to the fixture are a small junction box, 2 power cords and an AC/DC adapter to power the fans.

Independent Lamp Control: Fixture is wired with two bulbs on one power-cord and the other bulbs on the other allowing for independent control and dawn-dusk simulation.

Quiet, Cool Operation: Runs cool and produces virtually no noise.
